Place Guard Over New York Slayer Of Woman Writer

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, April 22.—Fearful that he may attempt to take his life, police today placed a special guard outside the cell of John Florenza, 24-year-old ex-convict, who confessed to the brutal murder of Nancy Evans Titterton.

The youth's belt, shoe-laces, tie and other articles of clothing, with which he might conceivably injure himself, were taken from him.

Florenza faced another trying ordeal today. He will be placed in the police lineup and paraded before numerous victims of attacks in the Bay Ridge and Fort Hamilton sections of Brooklyn. The police believe it possible the upholsterer's apprentice committed other assaults on women... attacks which did not have the tragic ending of his lustful violation of the comely writer.

Calm Deserts Him

At police headquarters it was reported much of the unnatural calm that characterized the youth's demeanor as he re-enacted the attack on Mrs. Titterton and her subsequent murder, yesterday, had disappeared.

Oldest Resident Of City Is Dead

Mrs. Belinda McMillen Campbell Aged 98 Years,

Away

LIVED IN CITY
NEARLY CENTURY

Mrs. Belinda McMillen Campbell, aged 98 years and 2 months, New Castle's oldest living citizen, died at her home, 202 North Walnut street, at 1:30 o'clock this morning.

Mrs. Campbell, widow of David I. Campbell, was born on February 20, 1838, in the South Jefferson street home of two early settlers, White and Sarah DuShane McMillen. She passed all her long lifetime here and was one of the best known of the old residents. She saw New Castle grow from a small village to the large city it is today.

For the past 51 years Mrs. Campbell lived in the house on North Walnut street where she died. Her husband, to whom she had been married on September 28, 1865, preceded her in death on December 21, 1921. The couple had celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary on September 28, 1915.

Mrs. Campbell was the last member of her own family. She was preceded in death by three sons, Thomas W., D. Irwin and Ralph M. Campbell. Ralph Campbell, who was Lawrence County prothonotary and clerk of courts for many years, died on January 20 of this year.

Surviving are two sons, Joseph T. Campbell, Walnut street, and John F. Campbell, of Chicago, Ill., four nieces and one nephew.

The funeral service will be conducted at the residence Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with Dr. C. B. Winger, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, of which the deceased was the oldest member, in charge. Interment will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

(International News Service)
MOOSE RIVER, N. S., April 22.—Heroic rescue gangs today broke through the last rock barrier in the Moose River gold mine where Dr. D. E. Robertson and D. Alfred Scadding had been trapped for eleven days.

A third man, Herman Magill, succumbed early Monday to exposure and starvation in the subterranean horror chamber.

The men, however, were not brought immediately to the surface.

They are reported to be in considerable pain and a provincial medical officer was sent down the rescue shaft to administer first aid. It was believed they could not be brought out for at least an hour, possibly longer.

Stretchers followed the doctor down the rescue shaft. As soon as emergency first aid was administered, it was believed the entombed men would be placed on the stretchers and brought to the surface.

Congress Session May Extend Through Period Of Both Conventions

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 22.—With the presidential conventions starting in seven weeks, congress today faced the possibility of remaining in session to complete its legislative program while the two major parties choose their nominees for the 1936 presidential race.

Administration leaders were striving desperately for an adjournment between June 1 and June 5. President Roosevelt's demand for enactment of a new tax bill and a $1,500,000,000 new relief fund threatened to prolong the session well into June. This would force the national legislators to remain here, while other party leaders attend the conventions in Cleveland and Philadelphia.

Repeat 1932 Record?

This was the case in 1932 when congress met throughout both conventions in Chicago. A few legislators slipped away to participate in drafting party platforms and choosing the nominees.

Aside from the tax bill and relief fund, congress was confronted with a number of other legislative problems.

Seevers Loses Plea To Court

Decision Of Court Rejects Petition To Quash Murder Indictment

CRIME OCCURRED
SEVERAL YEARS AGO

In an opinion handed down at court this morning Judge W. Walter Braham refused to quash an indictment against John D. Seevers for the murder of his sister-in-law, Katherine Rodgers.

Seevers is now serving a life sentence in the Western penitentiary for the murder of his wife, Estelle Seevers. The two crimes were committed at the same time. On July 25, 1929 Seevers, with his wife, his sister-in-law, Katherine Rodgers, and several others were coming toward this city from Cleveland, O., intending to go through to the eastern part of the state.

Near the airport on the New Castle-New Bedford road they had some difficulty, and became involved in an argument. Seevers stopped the car, drew a revolver and shot his wife and Mrs. Rodgers. He also wounded a boy who was a member of the party.

After Seevers had been arrested and committed to jail a commission (Continued On Page Two)

New Tax Bill Recommended

House Ways And Means Committee Majority
Files Report

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 22.—Estimating the yield of its new tax bill at $903,000,000 the first year, and indicating that Congress may have to enact another tax bill next winter, the House ways and means committee today filed a formal report recommending passage of the legislation.

The majority report of Democratic members, praising the new method of levying corporation taxes, was countered by a Republican minority report assailing the program.

The committee's estimate of the revenue yield falls $334,000,000 short of the $1,137,000,000 requested by President Roosevelt to restore his budget to its position before the supreme court knocked out AAA processing taxes.

Says Government Competition Will Ruin Investors

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 22.—Unless government competition in the power business is checked it will lead to increased unemployment and ruin thousands of investors, Frank F. Fowle, president of the Western Society of Engineers, today told the Midwest Power Engineering conference in session here.

"Five of the fourteen projected power plants are a sheer waste of money," Fowle said, adding: "These projects are Passamaquoddy, Casper-Alcova, Fort Peck, Tygart and Central Valley. They should never be developed with anybody's money—public or private."

Alice Longworth Says

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 22. The opposition has never made so little use in an election year of the sounding board of Congress. The success of Senator Vandenberg's attacks on Passamaquoddy, the Florida Canal and AAA crop control payments shows how much can be accomplished by a determined offensive. It also shows that one of the most telling issues of the campaign will be New Deal waste and extravagance.

That is the thing to which people really react and give immediate and attentive hearing.

The sooner the Anti-Administration politicians learn that there is profound popular interest and rapidly mounting alarm at the rate and volume of government spending the sooner they will concentrate on the wholesale squandering of the taxpayers' money.

Everyone recognizes that the Agrarian problem can't be ignored, and that unemployment relief must be continued. But an increasing number of people are becoming deeply distrustful of the way these matters are being handled, and any sound alternative would attract an enormous following.

It's up to the opposition to be insistent, consistent and convincing.

Quite a number of New Castle residents expected yesterday's weather. If you recall, Pa New's domain was surrounded by the same type of weather, just about this time of year, in 1935.

Walking through Cascade park during the past few days, Young Pa New scouted quite a number of fishermen "trying their luck" in the park stream.

Automobile collision garages are busily engaged repairing dinged fenders, running boards and bumpers which were banged up during the slippery winter weather, Young Pa New observes.

Colfax, La.

POSSE HUNTS
FOR MURDERER

(International News Service)
COLFAX, La., April 22.—A large posse took the trail at dawn today in the search for Walter Johnson, 45-year-old farmer, who is wanted as the alleged slayer of two peace officers.

The officers, Sheriff W. L. Nugent and Deputy D. L. Brunson, were shot to death in a fireup of violence late yesterday over the cattle dipping program of Grant parish.

Nugent and Brunson were killed when they went to the assistance of federal range riders who said they had been fired upon while loading cattle into a truck.

The bodies of the officers were found some 150 yards from where the cattle truck of the range riders was parked.

Both men were shot down from ambush. The slayer used a high-powered rifle. The sheriff was struck twice and his deputy three times. The bodies were found sprawled in the woods, indicating they had not returned the fire of the sniper.

President Goes To Fall River For Services

Roosevelt Follows Body Of Late Secretary Louis Howe
To Grave

(International News Service)

FALL RIVER, Mass., April 22.—President Roosevelt arrived here this morning on a funeral train to follow the body of his devoted friend and secretary, Louis Howe, to the grave.

It was the ultimate tribute the president could pay to a man who had unshakable faith in him and spent 26 years in his service.

Their attachment was a rare thing. Louis Howe had no other friend in the world than Roosevelt, since 1910 when he gave up his own newspaper career to further the political career of the young state senator who had just come to Albany from Dutchess county with a burning zeal for public service.

Sometime tonight the mock Republican convention now in progress at Westminster College will nominate its candidate for the presidency of the United States, but who that nominee will be is anybody's guess today. Debate on the adoption of the platform began Tuesday night and will continue this afternoon.

Each of the two sessions thus far has had its definite atmosphere. The opening session was one of color and enthusiasm, the one Tuesday night was one of debate and some of the arguments, advanced in support of planks demonstrated an insight into problems of national importance that colleges today are alive to current affairs.

Sharon Plans For Rebuilding Work

(International News Service)

SHARON, Pa., April 22.—With the same courageous spirit with which other Pennsylvania communities dug themselves out of flood destruction and began rehabilitation, Sharon today already planned the rebuilding of its business section, destroyed by a fire which wrought damage estimated at nearly $1,000,000.

While streams of water still played on the smoldering ruins of the home office of the Protected Home Circle, national fraternal insurance society, President S. H. Hadley announced the $650,000 loss would not deter it from rebuilding immediately.

Meanwhile the owners of other buildings destroyed by the blaze said they expected to rebuild as soon as possible.

HOUSING IS G. O. P. PROBLEM

Cleveland Rooms Much In Demand

Convention Committee Confronted With Unusual Demand For Accommodations

KEYNOTE SPEAKER PROBLEM SOLVED

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CLEVELAND, April 22.—The problem of supplying enough rooms and enough tickets to accommodate everybody who wants to crowd into Cleveland on June 9 to see the Republicans nominate their presidential ticket was giving the G. O. P. arrangements committee a full-sized headache today.

Selection of a convention keynote had been accomplished in serene good order when Senator Frederick Steiwer, of Oregon, was chosen unanimously to deliver the opening blast against President Roosevelt and his administration.

Some Complaints
After that hurdle was nearly taken, however, National Chairman Henry P. Fletcher and his party cohorts found themselves up to their ears in a deluge of complaints about various phases of the advance arrangements for the impending Republican convention.

The New York delegation discovered it had only 200 rooms for 90 delegates and 90 alternates giving them a mere 20 rooms to pass around among the deserving of the empire state. Others learned that their reservations for double rooms were to be filled with rooms containing a double bed rather than twins. A charge was made even before the arrangements committee that the convention be moved arbitrarily to Chicago, West Virginia National Committeeman Walter S. Hallahan was designated to attempt to iron out the many difficulties.

the entire snowfall during April of last year amounted to but half an inch. Two and a half inches of snow has fallen so far this month.

East Washington street was brightened considerably early this morning when a large fleet of attractive blue and white cabs, enroute to New York, passed through town.

While there does not appear to be the intense interest in the outcome of the primary election next Tuesday that marks some elections, nevertheless election boards are asked to remember that The News will appreciate co-operation in getting early returns to The News. Both Republican and Democratic primary count will be desired.

There was plenty of ice to be noted on sidewalks and around the city this morning, despite the fact that it was April 22. Temperature dropped as far as 28 degrees, Pa News is informed.

Bids are to be opened at Harrisburg this afternoon for the construction of the new highways department building on Wilmington avenue. It is expected that work will be started soon on this project.

serted him. He babbled hysterically in his cell about the crime... revealing several new details.

While the contents of the formal confession, which he signed yesterday, were kept a close secret by District Attorney Dodge, a close parallel was pieced together by detectives from his panicky outpourings. Most appalling was his verbal picture of the actual moment of the attack. He had gained access to the writer's apartment on the pretense of wishing to see where a love seat he and his employer were repairing was to be placed. He followed her into the bedroom and clutched her from behind.

"Please Don't Hurt Me."
"She screamed 'Please don't hurt me,'" he was quoted as saying. "I threw her on the bed and attacked her. I ripped nearly all her clothes off. She kept fighting and all the time she was screaming."

"Please don't hurt me... Please don't hurt me."
The youth told detectives there was something in the gentle-natured Ohio girl's appearance and manner that had aroused all the lust and bestiality in his neurotic mind. Meanwhile further details of the work of the police in "breaking" the case, a truly amazing bit of detective work, came out.

From the very first they had concentrated their efforts on the 13-inch strand of twine found in the tub underneath Mrs. Titterton's body. Their search led them as far as Kentucky. Finally they learned a certain firm had supplied this cord to upholstery establishments in New York. Then it was traced to Krug's little shop near the Titterton home.

Demand Electric Chair.
Another vital clue was a white horse hair found on Mrs. Titterton's body. A chemical analysis showed it was identical with the horse hair used in the padding of the love-seat. Finally stains on the counterpane of the body matched stains on Florence's clothing.

After appearing in the lineup today Florence will be arraigned in homicide court and held without bail. District Attorney Dodge plans to present the case to the grand jury tomorrow. Dodge is determined the youth pay for his crime in the electric chair at Sing Sing and will seek a swift trial.

CONGRESS MAY EXTEND THROUGH BOTH CONVENTIONS

lems. The $308,000,000 Wilson-Copeland Flood Control Bill was tied up in the senate commerce committee because of a controversy over the question of compelling the federal government to bear the full cost of all flood work construction. Unless this issue is settled amicably, it will provoke a long-drawn-out battle over flood relief legislation. Federalists care to go home without finally enacting this bill, which passed the house last year. Its provisions would give flood protection to communities throughout New England, New York, Pennsylvania, the whole basin, the middle west, and along the Pacific coast.

A companion bill, giving flood protection to the entire lower Mississippi Valley and tending to reduce floods in the upper basin, has passed the senate and must be approved by the house.

The navy bill rests in a house committee. It would appropriate funds to build the navy to parity strength. Few legislators would care to adjourn without passing this bill. A new problem was presented when Senator Fletcher (D) of Florida, sponsored a series of administration amendments to the banking laws. One would permit national banks to declare dividends, whenever earnings justified. Another would ease the method by which a state bank can come within the Federal Reserve System. Banking authorities insist these amendments be enacted before congress quits.

Childs To Leave Boy Scout Post

Resigns As Executive Here And In Sharon, Effective May 24

NORTHERN COUNCIL NAMES HIM LEADER

CHESTER H. CHILDS

Chester H. Childs, executive of both the Lawrence County council and the Mercer County council of the Boy Scouts of America, since April 22, 1935, and executive of the Mercer County council for more than five years prior to that, had resigned today, effective May 24, to take over the executive post of the General Sullivan council in the northeastern section of the state.

Mr. Childs submitted his formal resignation to the local executive board on Monday evening but announcement was withheld until it had been presented to the Mercer executive board at Sharon last night.

Both boards accepted the surprise resignation with the "deepest regret."

Known better throughout Mercer county because of his years of capable scout leadership there, Mr. Childs was rapidly gaining wide popularity here and had completely won the friendship and confidence of local Boy Scout leaders and the scouts.

The General Sullivan council to which Mr. Childs goes embraces Tioga, Bradford and Sullivan counties.

Before the World War, when Mr. Childs' Scouting service began, he was an assistant executive of the Cleveland council. When the war began he enlisted and served two years.

Returning home, he organized the Quincy County council at Quincy, Ill., and served there until he was called upon by his superiors to organize the Clarion-Venango council with headquarters at Oil City. From Oil City he went to the Cumberland Valley council at Chambersburg, Pa., where he remained until called to the Mercer County council at Sharon on January 1, 1931.

When Lawrence county scout officials were seeking an executive to succeed Herbert G. Horton last year, Mr. Childs was their unanimous choice. He was called to give part-time service here and part-time service at Sharon, continuing old scout work in the Mercer district and entering upon new work here. He came here on April 22, one year ago today.

Under his leadership the council has made forward strides and scouting has been extended into new sections.

"I want to express the council's sincere regret over Mr. Childs' leaving," Council President L. B. Round declared today. "Scouting is losing a valuable man—everyone will feel the loss of his guidance. He is entering upon more responsible duties and as he goes we wish him well."

The news of Mr. Childs' resignation will come as a shock to the host of Boy Scouts here who were just becoming acquainted with him. He will remain here until next month to complete work already under way.

quartet, piano trio, woodwind quintet, brass sextet, violin solo and alto voice solo events. Mr. Replogle announced.

Part of the money which will finance the bus trip, it was pointed out, was raised in last Saturday's "tag day" of the musicians and part of the contribution of the new Citizens & Parents Music association. The school itself had a sum to add to it.

The band contest will begin at 12:30 p. m. on Saturday but Mr. Replogle said it would be 3 or 4 o'clock, or later, before the winners were made known.

The three buses carrying the senior high contestants, and Elizabeth Koski, Shenango township high representative in the piano solo number, and John Loth, Union township high representative in the oration contest, will return home together on Sunday.

Winners at Pottsville will be eligible to compete for national honors at Cleveland within a few weeks.

TOWNSEND MEETING
West Side Townsend members will meet Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in Murray hall, corner of Greenwood and West North streets.

WESTMINSTER MOCK G. O. P. CONVENTION TO HAVE CLIMAX TONIGHT

nations and the matter of armament. The convention finally adopted the majority report in the matter of dealing with nations and declared for "trade only with neutral nations, any trade with combatant nations to be an offense punishable by judicial action, Congress to declare when a nation is combatant."

Preparedness and Armament.

The one plank that drew the keenest debate was the one concerning preparedness and armament. The majority report declared for adequate preparedness, the minority report called for increased armament and an amendment to the minority report called only for a preparedness program for adequate defense. Some of the keenest arguments advanced were those of some of the co-eds who wanted the convention to declare for peace and reduction in armaments. The convention finally adopted a plank which calls for adequate preparedness for defense and a restricted entrance into the World Court, with this not presuming any affiliation with the League of Nations.

The convention was practically unanimous in its opposition to any cancellation of war debts and the ratification of the child labor amendment now before the several states. The fifth plank that concerned unemployment was being debated as the gavel fell for adjournment at 10:30.

London Demonstration.

During the debate Tuesday night the London delegates from Kansas put on a demonstration for their candidate which lasted for about five minutes. Garbed in straw hats and carrying London signs and banners they paraded through the convention hall to the accompaniment of cheers from sympathizers and jeers from the supporters of the other candidates.

Tonight will be the peak session of the convention it is thought with the supporters of every candidate striving for enough votes to win. On the first five ballots there must be a two-thirds majority to secure nomination. On the next five a majority will do and if the balloting goes beyond that, a plurality will be sufficient for nomination.

SEEVERS LOSES PLEA TO COURT

in lunacy was appointed for him, but the commission found that he was sane, and he was indicted for both murders.

Convicted In 1929.

He was tried at the December term of court, 1929, and convicted of the murder of his wife, the jury recommending life imprisonment. Seever has since been in the Western penitentiary. He believes that some time he may get a pardon and in anticipation of this his attorney Edwin K. Logan, presented a petition to court in which it was asked that the indictment for the murder of Katherine Rodgers be quashed. This for the reason that, in case a pardon was ever granted, he could be brought back here and be tried for the murder of Mrs. Rodgers.

Under the law a man is entitled to be tried for a crime before two terms of quarter sessions court have passed. It was contended therefore, that since Seever had not been tried, he was entitled to have the indictment quashed. On this point Judge Graham holds that at both sessions of court at which Seever could have been tried for the murder of Katherine Rodgers the case against him was continued at his own request, and he is consequently not entitled to have the indictment against him quashed. As the case now stands he can be tried for the murder of Katherine Rodgers if he is ever released from the penitentiary.

According to word from the penitentiary Seever has not been in very good health, but has given the authorities no trouble.

AN OLD STORY

ANOTHER of the gleaming stars of the screen has been granted a divorce. The bill of complaint cites a list of familiar grievances. Every so often there is a repetition of the story as one after another of Hollywood's personages severs the tie that binds.

"He quarreled with me frequently, was very abusive, created some degrading scenes and used profane language in the presence of our child," the complaint says. "He was extremely jealous. He humiliated me in the presence of my friends. His jealousy interfered with my work and made me very nervous. On other occasions he swore at me in the presence of friends."

Petitions in this general form, it seems, should be kept available for the gentry of Hollywood as a matter of convenience. They are, after all, for all of their glamor, people to whom the ordinary concept of morals means but little, it seems.

LOUIS McHENRY HOWE

Men achieve high office largely through their own powers and largely through the inspiration, the counsel and the loyal support of devoted friends. President Roosevelt offers an example of an ideal mingling of the influences that contribute to notable political success. The President has been fortunate in his friends, the most helpful of whom had been Louis McHenry Howe, his chief secretary, who is dead in Washington after a long illness. When Mr. Roosevelt was most in need of friendship—when physical affliction dealt him such a heavy blow—"Louie" Howe was at his side, a source of comfort and of hope. From that time forward, this unobtrusive, wise little man played a notable part in shaping the political career of the man whom he idolized.

In the death of Mr. Howe, the President has lost a valuable helper and a sincere friend, a loss of incalculable severity to those shoulders are heavily laden with responsibility.

BENEFICENCE OF WPA

"One shudders to think what might have happened to the town of Duncan, Ariz., had it not been for the beneficence of the WPA," says a writer who has been making an investigation of the conditions in many communities throughout the country.

The reasons given are these:
 First, because it is so arid out there in Arizona, the irrigation canals in the town needed improving $18,100 worth and the good old WPA came through handsomely with $15,600.

Then, because it is, so wet out there on the banks of the Gila River, the grounds around the grammar school had to be protected against flood $5,868 worth. The WPA rushed forward with $5,868.

Then some one decided that the present brick grammar school was hazardous and should be condemned. It was. Duncan agreed to provide the materials necessary for an elaborate new school. The WPA contributed $11,106 just for the labor.

Finally it occurred to some one that $23,236 worth of recreational park to be devoted to field sports on the flood-proof grounds of the new grammar school would be just the thing—provided of course that the WPA would come through with the $23,236. It did.

Duncan has 1,050 inhabitants and when these projects are completed the New Deal will have enriched every man, woman and child in the town by $52.50. Our own local officials ought to go west and discover how it's done.

MAKING LIFE ONE GRAND SWEET SONG

There are still a great many persons who can get through a whole day without once feeling an irresistible urge to burst into song. There may be lapses, of course; an occasional fit of early morning exuberance might flower into a melodious accompaniment to shave or shower just as night-time hilarity periodically calls for close-harmony repetition of the charms of Adeline.

Limiting one's songbird proclivities to that, however, according to a Columbia University speech expert, is nothing less than rejecting the abundant life that may be gained through song. The expert recommended a program that seems to comprise 24 straight hours of singing, chanting, whistling and humming—with a few bird-calls in between.

Instead of mumbling the traditional, grouchy "Good morning," she says, members of the household should greet each other with a rousing "Good morning to you, good morning to you, oh good morning, good morning, good morning to you!"—which undeniably conveys the idea. At meals, instead of asking for the butter just any old way, the request should be chanted to the tune of "Kentucky Days" or the quartet from "Rigoletto." Instead of ordering a child to bed with a "Get to bed or I'll punish you," she suggests that the admonition be delivered in a gentle, singsong manner attuned to "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot."

The speech expert—who doubtless possesses a splendid contralto voice—unquestionably is motivated only by the desire to make life just one sweet song. But, unfortunately, to many the prospect of being sung at from all sides, day and night, will merely be added reason for a good, airtight, croon-proof anti-noise bill.

If April showers bring May flowers there ought to be a bumper crop of posies pretty soon.

Chivalry still survives. Since the one who isn't driving is the one scared stiff, the husband doesn't drive.

Never tell a friend your troubles. He can't realize how bad they are, and you will hate him for being so dumb.

The United States chamber of commerce has described the new tax program as a gamble. It is, as usual, we suppose, one in which the house always wins.

Poor little Ethiopia retains faith in the League of Nations. She doubtless figures that it's impossible to lose more via Geneva than via Rome.

Helen Hayes is firmly convinced that we enjoy things more when we have to pay more for them. All of which goes to prove that Helen is a great little actress who is a little weak on psychology.

Scientists have found that worms aren't affected by red lights. Presumably, they're to be found at the wheels of machines that drive right on through regardless of whether the lights are red or green.

Astor's Cormorant.
 Hitler's Birthday.
 England, Rich, Worries.
 Who Wants To Be Equal?
 By ARTHUR BRISBANE

VINCENT ASTOR returns from a 9,000 mile cruise, his yacht loaded with strange monkeys, big lizards and other creatures, including a "flightless" cormorant, big, fat, hungry but, although a bird, unable to fly.

Carefully stuffed, that creature should be presented to Uncle Sam. It is just the bird for a fat gentleman, almost "flightless." Taxpayers will see the aptness of the cormorant gift. The cormorant is the world's biggest eater.

PRADISE HITLER, celebrating his forty-seventh birthday, by Propaganda Minister Goebbels, reminds us of Nero's greetings from his courtiers, "Caesar, emperor, divinity, God."

GOEBBELS suggests that history will recognize Hitler as the savior of "senile Europe" and the whole world. Many, here, would say, "Much obliged, but we would rather save our little corner for ourselves."

It cannot be denied that Hitler, only forty-seven, recently a house painter, then a simple soldier in the big war, now ruling Germany, implored by the British empire to preserve peace in Europe, has traveled a long way. Will he become Kaiser, Stalin, czar? The twentieth will be an interesting century.

THOSE WHO realize Hitler's inborn political aptitude will read, without surprise, in the New York Times, the statement:

"National Socialist Germany now dominates the diplomatic councils of Europe. Germany increases her strength hourly."

French officials say Germany is "secretly constructing a naval base on a Portuguese island, off the west coast of Africa."

The Nazi leader must have sound judgment, or wise advisers.

FOUR IN ONE
 Nearly everybody knows that inside of him (or her) are many individuals.

If you don't learn it soon, you're sure to learn it later, and you need not be shocked or surprised when you discover that you are not one person, but many.

There's the Wise man; there's the Fool.

There's the Brave Man; there's the Coward.

And there's the Angel and there's the Villain.

The Wise Man part of you knows just what to do, not because of any thing he has learned, but because of his own wisdom.

But the Fool makes the silliest mistakes. He may know what to do, but he doesn't do it. His attention wanders, his mind goes blank, he makes errors that make him wonder why the fool-killer didn't get him before he grew up.

And the Brave Man, he faces life boldly. In a great crisis he squares his shoulders and takes the blow squarely without flinching, and it never occurs to him that he can do anything else. . . . But the Coward, surprisingly, shrinks from even little responsibilities. He wavers and procrastinates and wishes he'd never been born.

The Angel is a decent sort, too good for the muck of life, but strong and decent. He is tolerant, fair, unselfish, you can always see the wings sprouting at his shoulder blades. . . . But the Villain is peevish, mean and jealous, violent in his hatreds, tenacious in his prejudices, an unpleasant type.

It makes some men and women quite sad when they begin to suspect that they are so many individuals in one.

Youths and maidens, particularly, take the discovery very hard. . . . As they grow older, however, they learn to accept it with some philosophy and to do the best they can to encourage the better half of themselves and hold the other half down.

But, at best, it's no easy job.

 Tom Hardy once in bitter ink Penned a bit about a bird Bathing at the water's brink, Saw a bull and never stirred; Let a stallion splash about; Headless of the noise he made. Then a gentleman came out. Fled the wagtail much afraid.

Strange indictment of us all Hardy penned for us to see! Yet dump creatures, large and small Seeing us will turn and flee. Man the cultured and refined, Walks the earth and ogre grim So that all the feathered kind Dread the mere approach of him.

Beasts instinctively retreat If the step of man they hear. Even dogs upon the street Dread the stranger drawing near. So much wrong to them we've done Ever since the race began That dumb creatures, every one, Terror-stricken, flee from man.

There are forty-two million automobiles in the United States. That's too many, but they would haul all the people at one time if the owners of them were good hearted enough to give them a lift.

The easiest part of it for the cow that jumped over the moon was getting back to earth.

There are always a lot of people who want less work and more pay. The people who ever got anywhere did not pay any attention to hours, but they have to pay the tax now for the birds who don't want to work between meals.

Mrs. F. D. Moffett tells of a gallant young physician in Cherryvale who was driving his motor car in the suburbs the other day when he overtook a woman he knew going to town. He stopped his car and invited her to ride. He helped her out at Main street, and she thanked him profusely. "Don't mention it," replied the doctor. "No, I won't," said the woman nervously looking around. "But that woman over there saw us, and I bet she will tell."

When some people do get any money they let it go easily. Others hold onto it until their hands are blue. The thought of getting more money is the big reason for a lot of people letting their money go—and they don't seem to care where it goes until it is gone and they yell for the police.

"Major Moses," replied the officer. "The rookie scented a new joke. 'Glad to meet you, Moses, old top,' he said cheerfully. 'Advance and give the Ten Commandments.'"

A bishop asked the minister in a prospective charge how he got through the service.

"Well, bishop, the service was soothing, moving and satisfying," was the answer.

"How do you mean?" asked the bishop.

"Well," replied the minister, "it was soothing, because over half the congregation went to sleep. It was moving, because half of the other half left before I was through. And it must have been satisfying, inasmuch as I wasn't asked to come again."

The railroad fare is nearly twice the bus fare. That's the reason the buses get the business. Ever ride on a bus for a long distance? You may want to pay no more and ride on a train.

Having his train stopped by a wild pheasant was a new experience to Engineer Frank Pearl, while speeding through New Jersey at 70 miles per hour, the bird struck the window of his cab, shattered it and knocked him away from the controls which automatically stop the train when released.

We read of a man who is 106 years old and he has just received his first old age pension. He doesn't wear glasses, smokes and chews tobacco and likes a little drink occasionally. Some birds would be stewed all the time if they were that old and would want a couple of old age pensions.

"I love men, not because they are men, but because they are not women."

April 22, 1832—J. Sterling Morton was born. He was a Nebraska newspaper editor, who foresaw nearly 50 years before anybody else the inevitable droughts, duststorms, eroded acres, etc., which must follow if all the west's trees were cut and all its sod plowed under. He originated the idea of an Arbor Day, and as state secretary of agriculture persuaded the legislature to put it in the calendar. ## The World At A Glance

May Not Mention Hoover.
 Held To Have Talked Too Much.
 Receiverships Cause Scandal.

By LESLIE EICHEL
 Central Press Staff Writer

HAS HERBERT HOOVER come to the end of the road? He will not even be mentioned at the Republican convention, if certain leaders have their way. Yet, Mr. Hoover intimates in his many speeches, neither he nor the Republicans have changed. They simply were not wrong when they were thrown out of office. They, today, are "vindicated."

But "Back in 1928!" is a poor battle cry. Besides, it leads up to 1932-33.

Worse than that—the trials of 29 bankers in the Detroit bank failures will begin in May and extend through convention time. The Roosevelt administration is prosecuting those bankers. The implication is, of course, that the "roosevelt administration" came in and cleaned up the bank mess.

Added to all this, Mr. Hoover is deemed to have talked too much. He has attacked so widely that he has aroused labor and the farmers still more. . . . And, all added together, make "just too much," in the minds of the Republicans who will dominate the Cleveland convention. They frankly hope Mr. Hoover will accept a few handclaps and a few cheers—and call it a career.

A LAW? One need not be surprised if congress should consider extending the corrupt practices law to cover the giving of large sums for organizations purporting to be one thing and turning out to be another.

Testimony brought out by the senate lobby investigating committee shows how the duPonts and other anti-New Deal industrialists gave sums to organizations such as the Southern Committee to Uphold the Constitution, the Southern Grassroots Convention of Gov. Eugene Talmadge of Georgia, the Farmers' Independence Council with "farmers" (from Wall Street) and the Crusaders. These and other groups were organized to confuse the people, according to it.

The amazing part of it all is the fact that the wealthy men gave such large sums in such a steady stream to organizations that were doomed to unfavorable publicity.

The Pitcairn family of Philadelphia gave more than $100,000 to one organization which few persons realize existed—the Sentinels of America.

Every one of the organizations contained the germ of Fascism, according to liberals. If any one of them had been headed by a magnetic leader, the liberals assert, the United States might really have found itself within the grasp of a Fascist Mussolini or a Nazi Hitler.

ANOTHER LAW? Another incipient law is one that may crush espionage in industrial plants.

Testimony before the senate labor subcommittee has been startling in regard to espionage and terrorism. Some "detective" firms have existed merely to terrorize men who thought of organizing or entering labor unions.

From the evidence gathered, it is disclosed that large corporations have paid these firms hundreds of thousands of dollars.

And, after local policing powers have been completely subservient to the powerful corporations involved. Thus, say the investigators, federal policing power is as essential as the national labor board—even if it takes an amendment to the constitution.

But the child labor amendment has been fought off successfully for years.

NATIONAL SCANDAL One federal judge is impeached for his conduct in paying exorbitant fees to a receiver—and then receiving a sum from the receiver (which, however, the judge said was on an old debt.)

There are many federal and state and county judges who are granting huge receivership fees and receiving no sum in return and yet they are not even criticized. They believe it just to pay receivers big sums to "salvage" a business.

But ask the creditors. They are seeing too often that receivership is a racket, and that when the receivers and the lawyers finish with a business, there is little left for the creditors.

In fact, receivership has become a national scandal—a bloodsucking event.

Every time a pedestrian reaches the other side of the street, he shall be credited with a run.

When a pedestrian scores from a safety isle, the nearest motorist shall be charged with an error.

A pedestrian who steps out of the way of a motor car and collides with another pedestrian shall be credited with a sacrifice bump.

When a motor car stalls at a street crossing the street shall be charged with a balk and all pedestrians in the vicinity allowed to advance.

Any pedestrian who reaches a safety isle while the traffic umpire's back is turned, shall receive credit for a clean steal.

When a pedestrian, in eluding a motor truck, is tagged by another motor truck, he is out, the first driver being credited with an assist.

Any pedestrian who argues with the traffic umpire shall be given a walk.

A pedestrian who is in a hurry and is kept waiting five minutes on a safety isle shall be put out.

All things have I seen in the days of my vanity: there is a just man that perisheth in his righteousness, and there is a wicked man that prolongeth his life in his wickedness.—Ecclesiastes 7:15.

Before making an informal call, even on an intimate friend, take the precaution to phone first. Unexpected visits often prove embarrassing to both parties.

Contracts Soon Ready For New Hospital Plan

Contracts for the new Jameson Memorial Hospital "prepaid hospital plan" which has been explained in articles appearing in The News each day recently, will be ready within a few days, according to Dr. W. W. Bissell, medical director of the hospital.

With the contracts ready all that remains for interested persons to do is join with others, select an agent out of the group and matter of joining is merely the matter of signing your name on the dotted line. Groups can be composed of as few as five persons, and the groups can be organized by people associated together in industry, business, social or fraternal relations, churches or Sabbath schools, professional groups, there is no limit to the possibilities.

While the matter of family memberships has been explained, a word more might be of service. The head of a family can protect his wife and minor dependents by first joining as an individual. This means $8 or $9 per year depending upon the type of room he wishes in case of hospitalization.

He then takes out a family membership for an additional $10 per year. His own individual membership entitles him to full hospitalization up to 35 days as needed and half rates after that. His family membership entitles him to put his wife or any minor dependent living with him in the hospital as they require it and the cost is one half the bed rate, everything else is free.

As an example, a child is put into the hospital in a $4 room. The cost to the member is half of the room rate or $2 per day. There is no charge for operating room expenses, anesthesia, x-rays, medicines, or whatever else is needed.

It must be remembered that the prepaid hospital plan has nothing to do with the matter of physician's fees. The member has his own family physician or any physician he wishes to have and the matter of payment is entirely between the patient and the physician. In short, the prepaid hospital plan is for hospital services and not for physician's fees.

There are several exemptions in the plan. Elective surgery, that is an operation that is known to be needed at the time of the affiliation with the plan, cannot be performed for 90 days after joining.

In the case of appendicitis 72 hours after joining before the operation comes within the scope of the membership. Maternity cases are accepted ten months after joining.

He then takes out a family membership for an additional $10 per year. His own individual membership entitles him to full hospitalization up to 35 days as needed and half rates after that. His family membership entitles him to put his wife or any minor dependent living with him in the hospital as they require it and the cost is one half the bed rate, everything else is free.

As an example, a child is put into the hospital in a $4 room. The cost to the member is half of the room rate or $2 per day. There is no charge for operating room expenses, anesthesia, x-rays, medicines, or whatever else is needed.

It must be remembered that the prepaid hospital plan has nothing to do with the matter of physician's fees. The member has his own family physician or any physician he wishes to have and the matter of payment is entirely between the patient and the physician. soon. He said that the payments usually are made during April. Tax collections for 1936 have been good, McKibben stated. All unpaid 1935 school taxes will be filed May 1, he added.

Apparently there are two kinds of liquor being imbibed nowadays; that is if one pays attention to the reports made by police. One kind when taken copiously causes the sidewalk to rise up and smack down the imbibant and the other kind causes them with a nature as pugnacious as any paid punch thrower.

Now is the time of year when the baseball team managers seek the aid of the streets department in having diamonds scraped and rolled. So far no talk of city tennis courts being fixed up for play has been heard in the city building. With summer around the corner, despite the cold blasts recently, thoughts of drinking fountains come to one man who asked yesterday when they would be in operation.

Anyone who would like to run a dance pavilion at Cascade Park has a chance to put in a bid to do so, according to a city advertisement. The dance pavilion will be let out to the best bidder. Alternative bids for operation for three or five years also can be made. Council will decide after the bids are open if the dance hall shall be leased for a term of one, three or five years.

On Court House Hill

County commissioners have granted the milk producers of Lawrence county the use of one of the court rooms for a meeting to be held on next Saturday evening. The meeting has been called to discuss the milk situation in the county.

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard took another patient to Torrance hospital yesterday. There has been an unusually large number of persons taken to this hospital from Lawrence county during the past few months. Mental trouble seems to be on the increase, possibly due in some measure to the depression.

County commissioners were down in the third district of Wayne township yesterday arranging for a change in the voting place from Powell's to Frank Cogley's.

Ballots for the coming primary which were printed by the Grove City printing company, have been delivered to the county commissioners office. They are being placed in boxes for the different voting precincts, along with supplies necessary for holding the election.

The commonwealth of Pennsylvania, use Jane Cochran has issued a writ of attachment against J. Norman Cochran and P. H. Scanlon in which the sheriff is directed to attach any money that may be due defendants from the J. R. Rick Motor Company and Charles St. John, and summon them as garnishees.

County Health Officer J. Frank Stevens was called to Little Beaver township yesterday to investigate an outbreak of chicken-pox. He found about a dozen cases which were properly posted. Up until the fifteenth of this month Health Officer Stevens reported that there were no contagious diseases reported in the county.

County commissioners announce that they have notified the county assessors that there will be no May assessments made this year. The assessments in May are for the purpose of recording any removals that have taken place in the district, and as there are usually very few, the commissioners do not believe that it will justify the expense.

Instructions will be given the different election boards of the City of New Castle at a meeting to be held at the court house this evening. Registration Clerk Thomas Edmunds will be present to answer any questions regarding the law. Close attention to instructions will likely result in fewer mistakes in the returns.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks pink.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c estate of H. A. Martin, has filed a summons in assumpsit at the prothonotary's office against Frank F. Forbes, executor in the estate of Novilla D. Stoner. A statement of claim will be filed later.

J. R. Hodge has filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against Donald L. Cameron, executor in the estate of the late Agnes Ball of South New Castle borough. The suit is for $555, alleged to be due the plaintiff on a funeral bill.

The court has fixed June 1st as a time for hearing any evidence that may be produced as to the whereabouts of H. S. Douglas. According to a petition presented by Sara M. Douglas he has been absent from New Castle for the past seven years. All efforts to locate him have so far proved futile. Unless some information showing that he is alive is produced by June 1st, the court will declare him legally dead, in order that his estate may be settled up.

P.H.C. Securities Insurance Records Safe, Says Hadley

Assurance Given Local Members By Supreme President Today

Protected Home Circle members throughout the New Castle district today were assured by Supreme President Samuel H. Hadley that, despite the organization's disastrous Sharon fire on Tuesday, all P. H. C. securities and records are safe in steel vaults in Sharon.

Mr. Hadley made this announcement: "It is gratifying to the officers of the Protected Home Circle that all important records are intact in the huge steel vault, which luckily did not crash from its place on the second floor. All securities of the Protected Home Circle were in the safe deposit vaults of the McDowell National bank at the time of the conflagration."

"Work in the Protected Home Circle will be continued in general and we will resume operating normally as soon as humanly possible."

Supreme officers of the organization made it known today that the P. H. C. will build a new home office building and lodge rooms on the site of their old home, totally destroyed in Sharon's worst fire yesterday.

tradesmen, is collecting gold and depleting the French reserves. While England tries to keep down the price of her "no-gold" pound, France is afraid she will not be able to keep up the value of her gold franc, already devalued by eighty per cent of its 1914 value. What becomes of the "magic in gold?" Our dear old dollar is worth only 59 cents, and only dealers in exchange know it.

THE LATE news is that England proposes to "curb" Mussolini all by herself, since the League of Nations will not act, and France will not help.

That might make England worry more than France does. If air war should start over London, the pound would drop far enough to please anybody. England is too wise for that nonsense; she will let some other nation test the effect of explosive and gas bombs, on big cities.

IN RUSSIA, as soon as possible, "all class restrictions, all inequalities among individuals will be wiped out." Russia will find that "destinations" and "inequalities" are necessary to get the best work out of men.

An Ethiopian who has killed a lion is permitted to wear part of the lion's mane in his headdress, so other Ethiopians kill lions because "no lion-fur headdress except for killers."

All men, doubtless, are created equal, as Thomas Jefferson said, but they don't remain that way, if they can help it, in Russia or elsewhere. Stalin has not remained "equal."

AN ARGENTINE, Juan Carlos Zabala, "small, with a worried look," on a wet track, rain falling and an icy wind blowing snow and water into his eyes, beat the world's record, including that of the great Fausto Nurm, running twenty kilometers in 1 hour 4 minutes and two-tenths of a second.

Great power is in the mixed races that make up the Argentine nation. What a heart that small Argentine must have!

JAPANESE plan wisely. Dr. Toyocho Kagawa, Japanese Christian now preaching in America, plans 1,000 Christian chapels in as many Japanese villages.

The idea is better than it sounds; on week days the chapels will be nurseries, taking children whose parents work the fields; on Sunday church services will be held and in winter when farmers are idle, they will be used as small agricultural institutes.

Thus, if the 1,000 villages should not be converted and saved, they will at least be helped.

MUSSOLINI'S overwhelming and rapid victory in Ethiopia recalls Danton's prescription for success in the French revolution:

"Audacity, more audacity, always audacity."

Mussolini sent a comparatively small body of men into a difficult country of mountains, deserts, swamps, fevers, wild animals, against millions of native hard fighters; recalling Elijah and his ravens, he sends men marching ahead into the jungle, without provisions, follows them through the air, drops food from airplanes.

Audacity works wonders, dictators have it, other rulers often lack it, hence the success of dictators—for a while.

MOSCOW HAS returned to the Japanese government in Manchukuo, with full military honors, the bodies of three Japanese soldiers killed in a fight with Soviet guards. The military honors will not console the widows, and, repeated often enough, such incidents lead to war.

BOY SCOUT Activities

CROTON TROOP NO. 6

Troop 6 of Croton M. E. church held its weekly meeting Monday evening in the church. The opening exercises were conducted by Assistant Scoutmaster Oscar Bishop. Contests in knot tying and signalling took place. Winners in signalling were Bob Campbell and Bob Hart-suff for last week, with Fred Bowen taking honors in knot tying. Dues were collected and each scout told of a good turn he had done during the week.

The scouts then adjourned to the junior room, where the men of the church were having their Brotherhood meeting, and refreshments were served. The meeting closed with taps and the scoutmaster's benediction.

FOR DELEGATE

To the Republican National Convention

Dr. ROBERT B. GREER

Of Butler is a candidate for Delegate to the Republican National Convention at Cleveland in June, and it is believed that at the Primaries, Tuesday, April 28th, he should receive a vote of utmost confidence from the people of our district. His father, the late John M. Greer, was Judge of the Lawrence-Butler district, then the 17th Judicial District, and later the counties were separated, each being made a distinct judicial unit. He stands for the CONSTITUTION, the BILL of RIGHTS and the SUPREME COURT, institutions on which our very country is grounded and without which we shall be in utter confusion. He is absolutely AGAINST Communism, Nazism, Fascism, Marxism, and all of the several varieties of fantastic and destructive governments of Continental Europe. Hence, at the Convention he will vote for that candidate for President who most nearly approaches those ideals.

Inserted and paid for by a group of long time Butler County friends of the Doctor who do not believe in the present ideas at Washington.

A member and Past President of the Butler County Medical Society, Pennsylvania State Society and the American Medical Association and is a Fellow in the American College of Surgeons. He is Chairman of the Surgical Section of the Butler County Memorial Hospital, has been President of the Butler County Chapter of the American National Red Cross for more than 19 years, and is on the Advisory Board of the Butler Public Library, Salvation Army, etc.

My New York By James Aswell

(Copyright, 1936, by Central Press Assn.)

NEW YORK, April 22.—One of the most versatile celebrities of the last couple of decades is John Heid, Jr., whose pert sketches first visualized in line the flapper of the 1920's. ... When the flapper era faded, he turned to short stories, many of them about dogs, and currently he has an exhibition of water colors showing Manhattan's streets and towers. ... Russell Patterson has become the most highly paid producer of life-sized mannequins for smart store windows. ... He employs 16 people and his puppet "Personettes," a new departure in sophisticated Punch and Judy, are booked into many upcity bits for the summer season. ... He has just made a bet with a sceptical friend that he can earn $1,000,000 in three years. ... "Earn it," he added sheepishly, "I didn't say keep it. ..."

Eye-blink: the girl on Park avenue with the transparent hat which seemed to be made of glass. ... Alexander Woolcott has renounced radio spelling for a year. ... The Mike Gable cut down on his scribbling time too heavily. ... Now there's a firm here which, for a small fee, will undertake to remind you of a dozen important dates throughout the year—anniversaries, engagements undertaken far ahead or anything. ... That jewelry firm in East 48th street does a boom business in a surprising sideline: drilling out the glass stoppers of perfume bottles which have stuck. ... The man who does it gobbles aspirin for his perpetual splitting headaches from the scent. ... Col. Tim McCoy, the two-gun movie man and exponent of the strenuous life, who lassoes six galloping horses in his circus turn, occupies the premier suite at the Savoy-Plaza and has two valets to peel his grapes for him. ...

Random oddment: a publishing house I know moved to the 13th floor of a skyscraper in East 52nd street recently, in the 13th year of its existence, accomplishing the shift on Friday the 13th and getting a new telephone number, Plaza 0193, which adds up to 13. ... This reporter's favorite lady, Jennifer Tamara Geva, a Ziegfeld discovery. ... Misty plants are the latest embellishment of swanky drawing rooms here. ... They grow in hermetically sealed glass globes, subsist on chemical food and thrive for years. ... It's good work if you can get it: Myra Kingsley, high-priced astrologist to credulous theatricists, divides her year as follows: three months in Hollywood, three in New York, three in London and three in Paris. ...

I dined the other night in a little restaurant I used to frequent seven years ago but hadn't entered since moving to a new neighborhood. ... The proprietor, a Greek who had added several score pounds to his 250 left, stopped by our table. ... "Good evening, Mr. Aswell," he chirped blandly, "your lady friend left her handkerchief last time you were here. I save it. ... " Sure enough, the bit of linen had reposed in a cash register drawer for nearly seven years as if it were no longer than last night. ... What wouldn't I give for a memory like that!

Census Head Lauds Work Done Locally

Government's Business Survey Should Be Finished By May 15

Praising the work of the enumerators and office staff responsible for the government's census of business in the 26th congressional district, Grant Olson, Pittsburgh, area supervisor for the census, came to New Castle on Monday to confer with Ralph T. Jordan, district supervisor. ... The census work in Lawrence and Butler counties is almost completed but several weeks more will be required in Beaver county. ... Supervisor Jordan hopes to finish the survey by the middle of June. The deadline set by the government is June 30.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy cheeks—sparkling eyes—most women can have. Dr. F. M. Edwards for 20 years treated scores of women who suffered from constipation. During these years he gave his patients a substitute for calomel made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients, naming them Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the bowels, causing a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, take one or two of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets at night for a week and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets—now and then—to keep fit. 15c, 30c and 50c.

Prisoner Agrees To Be On His Way

Accepts Offer From Mayor Of
Departing In Lieu Of 30 Days In Jail

Mayor Charles E. McGrath conducted police court at city hall today and in lieu of a trip for 30 days
to the county jail, John Fitzgerald, out-of-towner, accepted the alternative of leaving town.

The man has been arrested several times recently on either a charge of drunkenness or begging and when he faced His Honor, Mayor McGrath
Tuesday the mayor's patience had ceased to be a virtue.

He gave the man the alternative of leaving the city or going to jail on his next appearance before the bar of justice, so it was with some emotion that the mayor peered at the prisoner again this morning.

Fitzgerald asserted he was enroute from the city when arrested. He pleaded for another opportunity to depart without undergoing a jail sentence and his wish was granted.

Another man, who has no regular employment, and who became embroiled with his wife because she did not wish to give him money yesterday appeared before the mayor.

The man acknowledged that his wife could make the money go farther, took the responsibility for the trouble and was given an opportunity
by the mayor to go free,
without paying a fine.

A third prisoner to face His Honor couldn't recall much of what occurred. He said he had imbibed too freely and the first thing he knew he was on the inside looking out.
Not being a regular police court
frequent he was discharged.

The fourth man who received a hearing, was "laid off" last Friday.
He said he had consumed too much liquor but declared if given an opportunity he would not repeat the offense. This man was also set free.

Slavic Leagues Drop Democrats

Patronage Demands In Allegheny County Are Not Met,
Is Claim

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, April 22.—Asserting its patronage demands were not met, the central council of the Slavic and Allied Civic leagues of Allegheny county, claiming to represent 45,000 Slavs and Lithuan-ians, today severed relations with the Democratic organization here.

A resolution, announcing the split, released by Gregory Zatkovich, frankly stated the break resulted from failure of promises made by David L. Lawrence, Democratic state chairman, to materialize.

At one time, it was understood in local political circles, the organization was to have received a total of $240,000 in county jobs. When part of the Democratic slate lost in the last election, the figure was said to have been reduced by mutual consent. But the council has been able to central jobs totaling only $17,500 a year, it was said, because of the demands of the Democrats that its candidates be endorsed by ward chairman.

Nine Hundred Members In New Castle Y.W.C.A.

Additional memberships of 41, making a total of 902 members this year and $1613.50 in membership
dues, were reported at the Y. W. C.
A. Board of Directors meeting Tuesday night.

The board voted to send a letter of appreciation to the New Castle
News for the very fine publicity which is given the Y. W. C. A. at all times and especially during the campaign.

While this splendid response has made it possible for the Y. W. C. A.
to pay current bills and to open again in the fall, still the $4,000 deficit from the Character Chest is not fully met so that in addition to every economy it will be necessary to cut additional employees and for all program secretaries to leave without salary for two or three months during the summer. The camp, which is self-supporting, will be the only activity carried by the association during the summer. The
The dormitory and parlors will be open to guests and friends but there will be no clubs or classes during the months of June, July and August and the Colored Branch will have to be closed entirely. The Board of Directors regrets exceedingly that these steps are necessary since it leaves so many young people with so much spare time on their hands.

Reports of the district conference held in Pittsburgh were given by Miss Alice Sterling who told of the study which the New Castle Y. W.
C. A., with 24 other associations, had been making for the National Colorado Springs convention, on "Negro Basic Civil Rights."

Committee reports included the announcement of the reception for new citizens to be held May 11 with the speaker, Mrs. Laura Puffer Morgan of the International Peace Organization and hostesses the International Institute Committee and clubs of the Y. W. C. A.

Report was also given of the fine work being done in the N. Y. A. sewing and handicraft classes and the other government classes.

The annual meeting of the Y. W.
C. A. will be held on Tuesday, May 19, with Miss Louise Schaefer of the National Staff present to report on the National Colorado Springs convention.

In Thursday's News the complete report of new members, as presented at the board meeting, will be published.

REPUBLICAN VICTORY THIS FALL!

A constructive effort is necessary to bring this about. When we as Republicans had no concern about fall elections, due to our very large majorities, it was not a particularly harmful thing for us to fight amongst ourselves in the spring. This condition does not exist now, and we find it absolutely necessary to avoid differences and consolidate our forces as early as possible before the fall elections. The Harmony Republican movement has succeeded in doing this beyond the wildest hopes and expectations of any of the loyal Lawrence County Republicans. The work and effort toward unified organization which has taken place so far this year will have its effect in this fall election. Large majorities for Harmony candidates in the Primary next Tuesday will further strengthen the harmony effort, and help pave the way to Republican success in the fall.

CONSTRUCTIVE REPUBLICANS

Every candidate on the ticket listed below is a real Republican. They can be depended upon to support Republican principles. They are each and every one definitely and unalterably pledged to Republicanism, in its most liberal and broad interpretation. We, as Republicans of Lawrence County, can be proud to make a unified effort in support of each and every one of these candidates, and their caliber is such that their election this fall will be an accomplishment that will inject new vitality and strength in the Republican Party.

Spring Festival Shows New 'Zephyrs'

Latest Creation Of Lincoln Factory On Display At Francis Sales Rooms

Along with the early flowers and the new styles, spring this year brings something else that is new, the Lincoln Zephyr, the "car of tomorrow," the car that is the summation of all improved ideas in motor mechanics.

In order to give the motorists of New Castle and Lawrence county opportunity to view this new creation of the Lincoln factory a "Spring Festival" is being held in the Francis-Ford sales rooms on Croton avenue. There, with a display of spring flowers enhancing the beauty of the new car, the Lincoln Zephyrs are on display and will be until the end of the month.

The new Lincoln Zephyr is the answer to the motorists' demands for the perfect car, for it is as nearly perfect as human ingenuity can make it. The motor is something entirely new in design, develops 110 horsepower from its 12 cylinders set V style in a one piece block. Pistons are of cast alloy, the frame-work is a steel truss structure over which steel panels are welded. In design, in performance and in satisfaction the Lincoln Zephyr is considered to be the acme of the automotive engineers' art.

In appearance it is a sleek looking thing, reminding one of a high strung greyhound, ready to go at a moment's notice. Its power has levelled Pennsylvania hills and its speed is just as fast as you care to go.

With the Lincoln Zephyr on display at the spring festival in the Francis-Ford sales rooms are a number of new Fords. These, too, are attracting attention and deserve a look.

Susquehanna Is Roaring Monster In Flood Times

Expert Tells Why Pennsylvania
River Is Different From Many Others

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, April 22.—Placid enough on most occasions, the Susquehanna river is turned into a roaring monster at flood times because of the geological formation of its steep valleys.

This explanation was given by E. E. Brownell, who has made both a business and hobby of flood control work as a consulting engineer to scores of American cities. Deep gorges, narrow sides and a sharp drop along much of the Susquehanna make it even more destructive than many larger streams during high water, Brownell stated.

These characteristics of the river, Brownell said, account for the sudden rise of the stream during the disastrous St. Patrick's Day flood that inundated parts of Harrisburg, Renovo, Wilkes-Barre, Lock Haven, Sunbury and other points almost before their residents were aware of what was happening.

While the Ohio, Mississippi and other larger rivers carry vastly more water at flood stage, few have the terrific, battering fury of the comparatively smaller Susquehanna, he asserted. In the gentle Ohio valley, for instance, high water flows slowly and has a chance to spread out over adjacent flat areas, Brownell continued, but this "safety valve" does not exist along the upper reaches of central Pennsylvania's little giant.

Instead, high banks force the naturally swift-flowing current to stay in the channel, Brownell explained, so that virtually none of the force of the flood is lost as it cascades southward.

Brownell has compiled some interesting statistics comparing the Susquehanna with the Mississippi. Among them, he has found that only four times as much water passes New Orleans as passes Conowingo dam in Maryland, although the nation's largest river drains 20 times more territory. This, he said, is because of the Susquehanna's swift flow.

An all-time peak of water flow was reached at Conowingo during the recent floods, according to Brownell's statistics, 850,000 cubic feet passing over the dam each second. This would be enough to form a column one foot square and 13,909,091 miles long in 24 hours, or 556 times the distance around the world.

"Today," he added, "The Susquehanna is passing 250,000 cubic feet of water per second at Conowingo dam or a column of water one foot square reaching around the world 156 times. It would require 5,743,000 tank cars of 100 tons each to carry the water. This is possibly more freight rolling stock than there is in the world today."

TO COMPLETE PROGRAM FOR SPECIAL SESSION

Committee Will Resume Session

Matters To Be Brought Up For Consideration Are Being Determined

CALL FOR SESSION TO BE ISSUED SOON

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, April 22.—Expecting to complete a legislative program for the forthcoming special session of the General Assembly before the end of the week, members of the joint "harmony" legislative committee were to resume their deliberations here today.

As the bi-partisan group assembled, it was reported Gov. George H. Earle would issue his formal call for the session early next week, probably on Monday.

Meeting at the same time, the state emergency relief board was to allocate the last of the $60,000,000 appropriated by the last legislature for direct relief in the state. The balance in the relief fund, less than $3,000,000, is not expected to carry the state's $12,000,000 beyond May 10.

Governor Earle was to remain at the Capitol today for the relief board meeting.

Several New Subjects

With several proposed legislative subjects still to be considered, it was expected the harmony committee would continue its meetings over the course of two or three days. In addition to the original six legislative recommendations of the governor, it has been disclosed two other subjects will be included for the consideration of the committee. These are legislation to prohibit the torture of animals at roadside "zoos" and a chattel mortgage law to facilitate the granting of loans to flood victims.

It was expected Governor Earle will issue his call as soon as possible after "harmony" committee presents a report on the results of its conferences.

ADDITIONAL GIFT FOR DISASTER FUND

Among the additional contributions to the Lawrence County Chapter Disaster Relief Fund received today was that of $15 from the New Castle Refractories Company.

A detailed report of the flood relief activities of the chapter will be submitted at the next meeting of the executive committee which will probably take place next Monday evening.

Hospitalization Plan Endorsed

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 22.—Group hospitalization in Pennsylvania is "here to stay" according to leaders of the hospital association of Pennsylvania, which opens its 15th annual conference here.

Announcing the results of a statewide survey showing 47 per cent of all hospital patients in the state are free patients, John N. Hatfield, administrator of the Pennsylvania hospital at Philadelphia, represented the consensus here when he said:

"Group hospitalization is growing so fast that it's being accepted throughout the country. Today there are only two such plans in operation in this state, but it's here to stay."

Plan Upheld

Howard E. Bishop, superintendent of Robert Packer Hospital at Sayre, Pa., also reflected the majority opinion. He stated:

"It (group hospitalization) is one means of keeping the hospitals alive. The federal government has declined to provide hospital relief for the unemployed, and the hospitals can't take care of people who can't pay unless those who can contribute something toward this expense."

According to Hatfield, who is executive secretary of the organization, most group plans now in effect provide for monthly payments by individuals of from 75c to $1. Which entitles them to 21 days hospitalization.

More than 1,000 hospital administrators, directors and technicians will attend the convention which will continue through Friday.

year, besides the usual accumulation of the winter's debris, we have tons of muck and filth deposited in our homes and on our properties by unusually severe floods. Much of this rubbish is a potential menace to public health.

"In many sections, flood waters damaged or swept away outhouses. Steps should be taken at once to rebuild outhouses along modern sanitary lines. The Federal Works Progress Administration, in a project sponsored by the Department of Health, is prepared to supply labor and build modern outhouses for anyone who will pay the cost of materials which usually amounts to about $20."

Annual Food Show Is Open

Crowd Attends First Night

Program In Cathedral On Tuesday

MANY FEATURES DRAW INTEREST

New Castle's sixth annual food show and home beautiful exposition, under the auspices of the Lawrence County Retail Grocers and Food Dealers Association, opened auspiciously in the artistically arranged dining rooms of The Cathedral, Tuesday night.

The crowd present marvelled at the cleverly arranged exhibitions of food stuffs and home furnishings. One display which created much attention is a miniature store showing, with the use of mechanical dummies, merchants and a customer. The home beautiful exposition has a number of uniquely arranged displays.

Those who were in attendance at the grand opening walked away with the feeling that this year's show is one of the finest held yet. Because of the facilities of the Cathedral building and the manner in which the show is conducted annually, the local event is classed as one of the outstanding in the district.

From 7:30 o'clock until the close of the first night of the show, the crowd was entertained by a local group of musicians who rendered a number of pleasing selections. Among the features of this year's show are a girls popularity contest, leading entertainers of the district, amateur night, and distributing of 100 baskets of groceries.

Chairman J. Rupert, Frank Hill and the remainder of the committee have prepared a series of highlights to be presented during the course of the show which continues throughout the week, starting nightly at 7:30 o'clock and closing at 10:30 o'clock.

Borough Manager Kiwanis Speaker

Lowell W. Monroe Speaks On
Cleanliness And Sanitation
At Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, April 22.—Kiwanis Club of Ellwood City held an interesting meeting Tuesday evening in the Trinity Lutheran church. There was a fine turnout present.

Charles Relphe led the music for the evening after which Dr. H. E. Helling told of some plans for amateur night to be held in two weeks. Rev. F. H. Daubenspeck, pastor of the Lutheran church, was introduced as a new member of the club. C. W. Carbeau and Dr. Helling were named as the official delegates to the National convention of Kiwanis to be held in Washington, D. C., on June 21-22-23. Dr. Harold Sumner and G. Blaine Hancher were named as alternates.

The club voted in favor of a Community Chest in Ellwood City after a motion to this effect by Nelson Runyan and Charles Blank. It was announced that All-Kiwanis Night for the district will be held on June 22 at the Ellwood City Country Club.

The speaker of the evening was introduced by Elder Anderson. He was Borough Manager, L. W. Monroe, who gave a talk on the "History of Cleanliness and Sanitation." This was in keeping with Clean-up Week being observed here now. He gave an interesting talk on the ideas of cleanliness from the times of the Bible and to the present time. The vast improvements made by science in sewage disposal plants, incinerators, and garbage disposal methods have all aided in making communities healthier and safer. The speaker explained that the city now has a 30 per cent collection of garbage and is striving for a 100 per cent. The city spends $5,000 annually in garbage disposal of which about $2800 is paid to the city. An educational campaign is being conducted by the speakers. This would result in insuring health, eliminate a fire hazard, and make the people scenic conscious. A clean city coupled with the scenic beauty offered by the Connoquenessburg gorge would encourage a tourist traffic. Mr. Monroe said in closing.

Parrish, head of the public speaking department of the University of Pittsburgh for the past 12 years, was not consulted when it was decided to drop his assistant, Richard Murphy, although this was contrary to usual procedure, Chancellor John G. Dr. Parrish resigned because Murphy was not retained for the "high handed autocracy" of the present administration, already under the fire of Gov. George H. Earle and the American Association of University professors.

Bowman denied "liberalism" was an issue in the dropping of Murphy and reiterated the instructor was not retained because of the necessity of economy.

Charge Political Pressure Is Used On WPA Workers

State Republican Chairman, M. Harvey Taylor, Accuses Edward N. Jones

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 22.—M. Harvey Taylor, State Republican chairman, today charged State WPA Administrator Edward N. Jones with knowledge, "if not actual connivance" of political pressure being exerted on Works Progress Administration employees.

Referring to the dismissal of a WPA foreman at Sunbury by Jones because of charges the man solicited funds for political purposes, Taylor asserted:

"All very well—but if Jones thinks he can ride his own bludgeoning of welfare workers behind the transparent smoke screen of one dismissal he is fooling only himself. He and his political boss, Secretary of the Commonwealth David Lawrence, are even at this moment using political pressure on WPA employees all over the state. . . . I have evidence that these poor workers were compelled to hand over substantial parts of their earnings for tickets to Democratic dinners, under pain of dismissal if they did not—all this with the apparent knowledge, if not the actual connivance, of Jones himself."

(International News Service)
DOVER, Del., April 22.—Delaware Republicans met in state convention here today to select nine delegates and nine alternates to the 1936 national party convention in Cleveland June 9.

To the Republican Voters

In the past twenty four hours there has been injected into the present campaign for the Republican nomination for congress, certain personal references that hardly befit the dignity of the office sought. In order that my position in this matter be made clear I have urged my friends and supporters to refrain from a discussion of anything but facts germane to the issue.

As to the so-called "harmony" candidate for Congress, it occurs to me that this issue can be cleared up quickly and definitely, if the voters are permitted to see the letter written by Orville Brown on or about January 27 to County Chairman Roy W. Hazen. That letter will settle once for all any question of who wanted harmony.

Mr. Brown has raised the issue now let him produce the letter. Is there any reason why the voters should be kept in ignorance of the contents of that letter? Can Brown deny its existence or its contents?

Let's bring all the facts out into the light of day. Let's have the letter printed so all the voters can see it.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Sweden Has No Relief Problem

Wise Government Of Northland Country Does Not Attack Capital Unduly

VISITOR COMES BACK TO AMERICA

Central Press
Washington Bureau
1900 S street
By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Eric Bark, a Swede, naturalized in the United States, recently came back from his home land, and tells me this story.

Everybody fat and prosperous. No beggars. No unemployment. No illiteracy.

Sweden, first country to come out of the depression, due in large measure to a parliament that doesn't attack capital unduly, but gives their due to both labor and consumer. Socialists in power. First country in the world to be so ruled. The rule a sort of middle of the way; government the umpire.

ITS LIQUOR SYSTEM

Liquor legislation begun in 1905. Now famous Bratt system. Everybody entitled to four quarts monthly. Also just enough with each meal. All spirits controlled through a central organization. It is run and owned by private capital, as are all underlying distributing centers. Stockholders elect three members of the board of directors. The city where located elects three more. The government appoints the chairman. Owners are allowed 7 per cent profit. The remainder is turned over to education. Works fine. No bootleggers.

AGED ARE PROTECTED

Old age pension. Everybody from 16 years old pays an annual premium of $1. Is collected together with taxes and turned in to pension office. At 65 everybody who needs to do so automatically retires. Pension collected every month through the post office. Men and women get same amount. No more aims houses. Old couples continue to live together. Pension enough for all necessities.

Labor legislation. All labor disputes submitted to government agency, as umpire. Contracts drawn for a certain time. Upon expiration, process repeated. Little labor trouble.

State medicine. Free doctors, free medicine, free ambulances and free hospitals to all who need and cannot pay for them.

Forestry. All forests under government supervision. No owner cut without providing for return growth. Free advice "ad lib."

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP

Natural monopolies. Telephone and telegraph governmentally owned. Ditto a large percentage of railroad mileage and electrical power. Efficiently and courteously operated—and actually making money. No holding companies permitted. Seven per cent earnings allowed, rest to state.

Check. Prosecuting attorneys provided by government, their duty being to investigate corruption or favoritism. Anybody can make complaints, about anything.

FARM BONUS

Farm plan. Bonus to producers of anything. Premiums, advice, medals and encouragement for efficiency. Interest-free loans for drainage. Large farms being purchased by the government, split up and sold on 20-year amortization basis to farmers without money. Share-croppers unknown. An independent family for every 100 acres the goal.

Housing. Slums unknown. Government building and selling houses on same plan as for farmers. Individuals select their own types of houses.

CO-OPERATIVES

Co-operative organizations. Forty per cent of all trade through co-operatives. They now own some mills, factories and department stores. Also much successful co-operation among farmers, both for selling and buying. Encouraged directly by the government.

Outstanding impression: Everybody reasonable and open for discussion.

It sounds beautiful. Nevertheless, after revisiting it, Eric came back to live in this, his adopted, depression-inflicted country.

SNAP 'EM TOGETHER

To keep children's tams and scarfs from being thrown on the floor at school and soiled or lost, sew a snap to the inside of the tam and another on the scarf. Then sew two on the inside of the coat. The children snap the tam and scarf to the inside of the coat and hang on the hook.

Use cup cake tins or muffin pans to mold gelatin salads.

COMPARE Oldsmobile with other cars in its price field—and this fact will impress you instantly: Oldsmobile gives you more quality features for your money. ## THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

SPANKING COMMENDED

A New York publisher has just brought out a booklet of mine entitled "Training the Toddler in Safety." It is dedicated "To All the Little Children Still Alive."

I wish I were rich so I might put this booklet into the hands of every young parent who would read it. Maybe then I could help save some of the 7,000 babies under five who will have their precious lives snuffed out in accidents during the next twelve months. Please let me relay some of it to you:

"Each year 7,000 babies, from the ages of one to four, are killed by accidents in the United States! Each year 8,000 boys and girls from five to fourteen are killed in the same swift and terrible fashion! Twice as many as die from any one of the dread diseases against which we battle with quarantine, vaccine and inoculation."

"Four times as many youngsters from five to nine are killed by accident as die from diphtheria. . . . 'Sudden death' is too mild a phrase. A third of the babies and boys and girls are burned to death, not always swiftly."

"Suppose one of these children was yours! . . . To start with, we shall have to turn our backs on a recent and now prevailing theory of child training. As interpreted by most parents it simply means that children should be allowed to do about as they please. . . ."

"Put not your trust in the tongue in teaching tiny toddlers their way about in their brave new world. Better put it in the palm of your hand. . . ."

"Let your child learn that certain things—dangers—are to be avoided. Later let him learn the reasons. . . . We can't start at the top. We must work from the bottom."

Then very definite techniques are given for training the toddler, by means of pain applied thoughtfully and consistently, to avoid automatically running into the street, playing with fire, pulling things down from above his head in the kitchen.

Deplored the awful toll of little lives from accidents, I say: "When will it be your child's turn?"

"Must this sort of thing go on indefinitely at the present rapidly increasing rate? Are we to close our

MARKSMANSHIP PROVED COSTLY

(International News Service)
URBANA, O., April 22.—"I hit five windows out of nine throws", an 11-year-old boy exulted to juvenile court Judge M. L. Gaver when he and a companion were hauled into court on a charge of breaking windows in the McCoy Canning factory.

The boys explained they got into an argument over their marksmanship and decided to settle it by using the factory windows as targets. Before them they accounted for 21 panes. After parents agreed to replace the windows the boys were lectured by Judge Gaver and released. The woodshed beckoned as they left with their parents.

Rudyard Kipling was born in Bombay, India, Dec. 30, 1865. He was brought to England at the age of five to be educated. He won the Nobel prize for literature in 1907.

In England cat-tails were used for upholstering, prior to the time that kapok was introduced from Java.

Max Schmeling Is Confident Of Beating Louis

German Says "No Referee Will Be Needed To Render Decision"

SCHMELING HAS KNOCKOUT PUNCH

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 22.—There will be no referee's decision in the Max Schmeling-Joe Louis fight June 18.

Either Max will stop Joe or Joe will stop Max.

It's all as simple as that, at least to Max himself who is here for the major purpose of winning back the title he lost to Jack Sharkey.

Minor considerations not to be sneezed at are the enrichment of his own purse to the extent of about $250,000, the accolade of Herr Hitler and the greater glory of the fatherland.

"I didn't come over here to lose," said the big German earnestly. "Look at it my way. I don't have to fight. I have all the money I'll ever need right now. But I do want that title again. It means much to me in Germany."

Has Confidence
"I have a better chance than anybody ever had to come back. I'm only 30. Just at my best. I have the experience. I have the punch. And I have something all those others didn't have with Louis and that's confidence."

Max said everybody in Germany from Hitler to the smallest Burgermeister is behind him. Even if he should lose he says it will make no difference in the way they will treat him.

"You see," Max explained in his halting English, "Hitler is a politician and I am a sportsman," an ambiguous remark which was received with some lifting of eyebrows until Manager Joe Jacobs stepped into the breach to say what Max really meant was that Hitler's business is politics and Max's is fighting.

Maxie Has Punch
And what makes Max so sure he can stop a man who has stopped so many others?

"Well, that's not easy to explain," said Max. "But I'll try. First, everybody seems to forget I have knocked out a lot of men myself. Maybe just as good men as Louis."

"Then, too, I am fresh. I mean I have never taken a bad beating. The worst I ever got was from Baer and that didn't hurt me afterwards. He'll have to do more than put me on the floor. He'll have to keep me there and I don't think he can do it."

Dancing will follow the banquet in the gymnasium until 11 o'clock. It is expected that over 200 will attend.

Softball Meeting Tonight Postponed

Owing to the press of engagements and counter attractions, the scheduled City League softball meeting for tonight has been postponed until next Friday night at the "Y" at 7:30 o'clock. All team managers are asked to take notice of the change in the meeting date.

ST. JOHNS PLAN SOFTBALL TEAM

At a meeting held recently plans were made for the coming softball season by St. Johns midgetball team. The South Siders may enter the church league.

During the meeting, George Joseph was elected as captain. Norman Bishara, one of the best hurlers here, will play with the St. Johns. The St. Johns looked impressive in a light workout Monday.

CRUSADERS HAVE MEETING

The Crusaders of St. Andrews church held a meeting last night at which time the boys became enthusiastic for the coming softball season and planned to join the Junior softball league. The team will have another meeting Friday night at 7 o'clock at the church. Dave Riley will be the coach of the team this year.

Sacred Hearts Church Champs Enjoy Banquet

Over 100 At Dinner Honoring Church League Champions On Tuesday Night

SPEAKERS EXTOL COACH VENDITTO

Sacred Hearts or better known as the Keystone A. C., New Castle Church Basketball League champions for 1936, were feted and praised last night at the Community hall on Grove street. Upwards of 100 young men gathered to do honor to Coach Andy "Coots" Venditto and his clever passers. The event proved one of the most successful of its kind ever held here. It was a fitting climax to a floor team that has no equal in New Castle or Lawrence county.

The event began at 6:30 o'clock with the serving of a delicious spaghetti dinner and all the trimmings by a committee of young ladies headed by Mrs. Rocco P. Viggiano.

Very Fine Dinner
With the conclusion of the dinner the program was turned over to Fred Marcella who, after a few remarks introduced "Jimmy" Harper, a night club dancer, and this versatile young man performed a lot of dance imitations. Mr. Marcella then introduced the toastmaster of the occasion, Charles P. "Bugs" Walther.

Attorney Charles Ross was the first speaker and he congratulated the Sacred Hearts on their championship. The next speaker was Michael "Jack" Babovsky, prominent New Castle banker and sportsman, who gave a fine talk in which he said that he was glad to be present to honor the Sacred Hearts as church league champions, because his team last year, the St. Michaels, had caused a lot of disappointments to the Hearts in the crucial series.

Presents Pennants
Domenick "Jap" Covelli, New Castle high star guard and All-Tourney guard in the recent V. P. I. A. L. series, was called upon and he gave a fine talk and stressed basketball to the Sacred Hearts and in conclusion he congratulated the Hearts for their splendid record and achievement this year.

Rocco P. Viggiano was next and after a short, but interesting talk, the roving energetic business manager of the Sacred Hearts and Keystones, presented Rev. Fr. Doerr of St. Joseph's church, and Fred Marcella as secretary of the Keystone A. C., with pennants proclaiming the championship of the church league.

Viggiano Gets Gift
Fred Marcella, secretary of the Keystone A. C., was the next speaker and he had a lot of nice things to say about the basketball team and a few of the invited guests. Frank Viggiano, star forward on the team and coach of the midget championship Keystone A. C. team, was called upon and he gave a short talk after which he was presented with a radio by Mr. Walther, in behalf of the team in recognition of his fine work with the Keystones and Sacred Hearts and as a farewell gift. Viggiano will go to Philadelphia in a short while. Vinnie Gallagher, guard on the team and coach of the Keystone A. C. Juniors, spoke briefly. Carm Benincase also spoke.

The following members of the Sacred Hearts winning team were called upon for short talks: Joe Kelly, Nickie Gennock, Frank Merando, Sam Bullano, Peter Zingaro, Paul Morrison.

Coach Venditto Speaks
The applause was deafening when Mr. Walther introduced Andy "Coots" Venditto, coach of the Sacred Hearts and Keystone A. C., a young man who has risen to the heights in New Castle basketball through hard work and a determination to succeed. It was the guiding hand of this young man that brought the Hearts to the championship. Mr. Venditto responded to the toast with a splendid talk in which he gave the credit to the boys on the club and said that he enjoyed working with a group of fine young men such as represented the Sacred Hearts this year.

Venditto promised to have another championship team next year in the New Castle church league.

Father Doerr Talks
The final speaker on the program was Rev. Fr. Joseph Doerr, pastor of St. Joseph's church, who gave a very fine talk to the boys on not only basketball, but the facts of life and how they can build their bodies up along with their minds and become fine citizens and fathers. Father Doerr promised the boys his cooperation in their athletic ventures and will lend a guiding hand to the boys whenever needed.

The evening was concluded by dancing and a program of entertainment.

Presented With Medals

Henry MacNicholas, physical director of the "Y" and supervisor of the New Castle church basketball league, was unable to attend the dinner, but he sent the small gold medals to the hall and each member of the championship Sacred Hearts team was presented with their insignias by Fred Marcella. These medals are donated every year by the Y. M. C. A.

Stripp Signs With Dodgers

Brooklyn And Boston Go 12 Innings To 6-6 Tie On Tuesday

GIANTS-YANKS TAKE VICTORIES

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service

NEW YORK, April 22.—Shoved so far into the cellar that manager Casey Stengel's dreams of a first division finish already are turning into nightmares, the Brooklyn Dodgers are hollering for reinforcements and Joey Stripp donned his uniform today for the first time this season.

The Dodgers played to a 6 to 6 tie in 12 innings with the Boston Bees yesterday for a record of two victories in eight starts, and the announcement that Stripp finally had succumbed comes at a most propitious time. Stripp hit .306 last season, played steady defensive ball, and should help the floundering Dodgers.

Look For Shakeup
Details of his signing were not revealed, but it was reported that his return to the lineup will result in a wholesale shakeup.

Stripp probably will go to his customary place at third base.

With Frankhouse and Mungo pitching, and allowing 12 hits, the Dodgers pulled from behind to take a 4 to 1 lead in the third inning, yesterday, then promptly blew it.

The National League slate, curtailed by rain and cold, was completed by New York's 7 to 6 victory over Philadelphia. Hank Lieber's single in the last half of the ninth did the trick.

Terry Gets Three Hits
Manager Bill Terry was in back at first base for the first time this season for the Giants and made three hits.

Lefty Mose Grove of the Red Sox again dominated the American League by pitching his second straight victory and allowing only three hits for a total of five he has given up this season. He beat Washington, 8 to 1. In his other start he held the Yankees to two hits.

The Yanks beat Philadelphia in the other American League game by 7 to 6, although the A's drove Broaca from the box in the ninth with a four run splurge. Murphy and Malone saw pitching service for the Yanks, who compiled 13 hits against 11. The A's pitched Johnstone, Leiber and Matzuka.

Bill Dickey got his third homer of the season in the third with two mates on base.

Guy Sundt, former Badger fullback, today was appointed assistant athletic director.

MAY ENTER LEAGUE

Providing the St. Johns softball team, better known as the Y. S. A., can get Norman Bishara this year as their pitcher, the team will enter the city softball league, it was announced today. The report that "Gabby" DeCaprio would coach the team is not true. Mike Tony and Pete Bishara have been named business managers of the team.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Joe Heistand of Hillsboro, O., won the 16-yard trapshooting title of the North and South trapshooting tournament yesterday at Pinehurst, N. C., when he smashed 92 of a possible 200 targets. He broke 98 of his first 100 and 94 of his second 100. S. H. Sharman of Salt Lake City, was runner-up with 87-91-178.

WEST BUYS MOST

Women of the less populated states, rather than the congested city areas, spend most money on cosmetics, it has been found. Women in Nevada lead in the purchase of makeup, California women are second, and Washington, D. C., is third.

Depends On Benefactors
The $100,000, by the by, is a rough estimate of how far the committee privately expects to finish behind its quota by the time the anti-Hitler people from far and near have made clear the full extent of all the donations they do not intend to make to the Olympic fund.

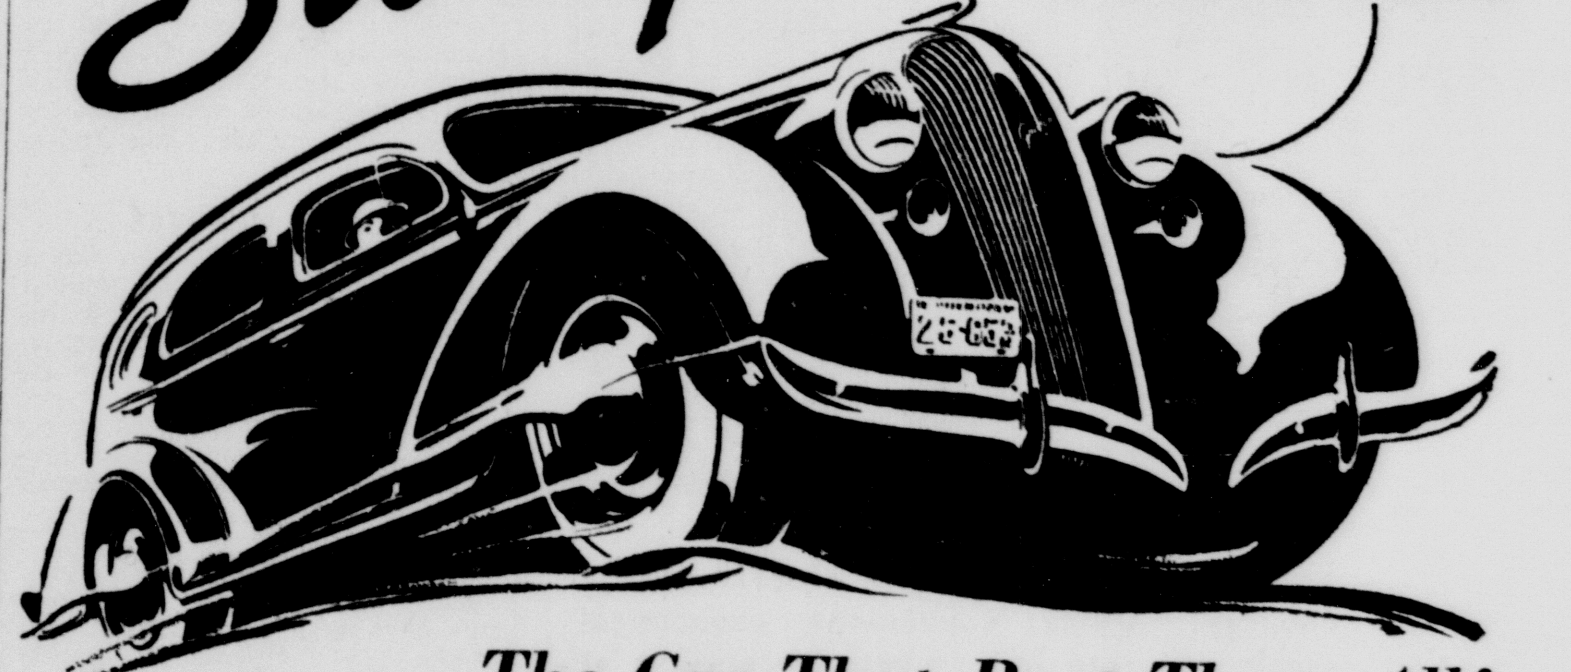

After counting these, one naturally wouldn't look for most of the team to get out of Sioux City before Indian summer sets in.

At what is deemed to be the proper time, therefore, the distinguished Americans will be waited upon by the deputation, anxiously awaiting down stray strands of hair in the ante-room as ordinary men are won't to do when about to enter the presence of royalty. I'm unfortunately not able to reveal the identity of the proposed benefactors because the committee feels that, to do so, might scare them off.

Personally, I would doubt that this can be done. In the first place, these are gentlemen who will not wish to be scared off from the privilege thus afforded of expanding under the glow of patriotism. In the second, there's nothing like it for the "donation" dodge in the income tax situation.

It is quite characteristic of this spurious, furious age, in fact, that one of the best ways of saving money is to give it away.

Stock Market
Higher TodayNew York Market Shows
Recovery Today On
Fairly Wide FrontBy LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, April 22.—The stock market recovered further today on a fairly wide front, leaders scoring gains running to more than 2 points.

Old-line leaders, including rails, motors and steels, were in the van. Motor shares were particularly strong, Chrysler opening 1½ points higher on a block of 3,000 shares and holding the greater part of this under light realizing. General Motors climbed nearly a point in anticipation of its quarterly report due today.

Gains in the steel department were limited to fractions, U. S. Steel and Bethlehem being turned over in moderate volume. Rails gave a somewhat similar performance. Northern Pacific, N. Y. Central and Union Pacific leading here.

Several individual issues chalked up wide advances, including J. I. Case which spurted 3 points at one time, Allied Chemical up 2, American Can up 2 and Holly Sugar up nearly as much.

Tobacco was among the few to lag behind the upward movement. Bonds were generally strong. Grains jumped nearly 2 cents a bushel. Cotton was slightly higher.

Rescuers Near Two Trapped In Mine

Two men imprisoned 141 feet below the surface for the last eight days in a gold mine at Moose River, Nova Scotia, heard the pounding of their rescuers as they waited beside the body of their dead companion, who died from exposure, for the workers to break through the last few feet of a solid rock wall. Photo shows a steam shovel at work sinking a shaft for the rescue of the entombed men.

Congressmen
Are AccusedD. A. R. Hears Accusations
Members Are Socialists
Or Communists

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Charges that many members of Congress are "really socialists or communists" disguised as Democrats and Republicans were made today at the 45th convention of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The 4,000 delegates attending the five-day meeting in Constitution Hall heard Mrs. Vinton Earl Sisson, chairman of the national committee on national defense through patriotic education, attack as "boring from within" the attempts of many congressmen to amend the Constitution.

Mrs. Sisson also declared that Rep. Marcantonio (D) of New York has introduced into the House a proposed amendment "very similar to the Socialist party's worker rights amendment" that provides for all national resources and most of American business to be owned and operated by the government.

In the course of her address, which took the form of a report on the work of her committee during the past year, Mrs. Sisson aroused her audience to enthusiasm when she challenged the constitutionality of bills, now pending in Congress, which would "outlaw war" and militate against the reserve officers training corps.

pastors' salaries had been paid in full or satisfactory settlement made.

Rev. Charles M. Rohrbaugh, who retired a year or so ago as pastor of the Volant and Rich Hill churches, and who has since resided at Youngstown, O., asked for a letter of dismissal from the Shango Presbytery in order that he might join Mahoning Presbytery in Ohio. He has accepted a charge of two churches at Ellsworth, O.

Rev. Jesse R. Houk, who served some time ago as stated-supply pastor at the Harlansburg church, asked for a letter of dismissal in order to join the Chippewa Presbytery, Wisconsin. It is understood that he has accepted the pastorate of a church which he had been serving as stated-supply.

Licentiate Gerald Palmer, of Leesburg, a theological student, also asked for a letter of dismissal. He will enter Steubenville Presbytery to be ordained and will take over a church there.

Reports were heard from various committees and the busy morning session was brought to a close. A welcome luncheon was served in the community building at Enon Valley by the Presbyterian ladies, for which Dr. C. B. Wingerd, of Central church, New Castle, voiced the appreciation of the conference body.

Name Delegates

In the afternoon commissioners (delegates) to the synod in June at Wilson College, Chambersburg, were chosen as follows: Pastors, principals, Rev. W. C. Ferver, Unity, and Rev. A. M. Stevenson, Ellwood City; alternates, Rev. D. C. Schnebly, New Castle, and Rev. John A. King, Ellwood City; Elders, principals, Scott Kildow, Princeton, and William A. McConahay, Sharon; alternates, Dorris Pulkman, Pulaski, and William S. Bell, New Wilmington.

Commissioners elected to the General Assembly, Syracuse, N. Y., May 28, are: Pastors, principals, Rev. W. J. Engle, Bessemer, and Rev. William O. Nagle, Clarksville; alternates, Rev. William A. Lloyd, Leesburg, and Rev. William Parsons, Inverness, Fla., formerly of Pulaski, and Rev. William P. Byers, of New Wilmington, alternate to Dr. Parsons. Elders, principals, Harry W. Brown, First church, Ellwood City, and J. Audley Boak, Mt. Herman; alternates, Perry W. Griffin, Bessemer, and Frank Isenman, Bell Memorial, Ellwood City.

With a few minor correction the sessional records of all churches were approved.

Two Are Licensed

Harold Guy, a member of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, and Stanley R. Boughton, a member of the First Presbyterian church, New Castle, seniors at the Princeton Theological Seminary, were examined and licensed to preach the Gospel. Both young men are to be graduated early in May. Their trial sermons yesterday and the way they conducted themselves in examination were commended very highly by the listening ministers.

Mr. Guy, who is the son of Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Guy, of North Liberty street, asked the Presbytery for dismissal so that he may unite with the New Brunswick Presbytery in New Jersey. He has decided to accept a call to Lawrence Road Presbyterian church, near Trenton, New Jersey.

Permission to serve as supply minister at the Ellwood City Magyar church until June was given to Rev. Nagy, of Beaver Falls.

Princeton and Herman parishes are still without a pastor. Pulaski will probably make a call in the near future. Hopewell, at New Bedford, is being served by Rev. G. O. Brown, stated-supply. Harlansburg is served by Rev. Charles Bell, Ellwood City, stated-supply.

The next meeting of the Presbytery will be on the second Tuesday of June. No place was decided upon.

DIES IN SHARON STREET

RESCUE GANGS
BREAK THROUGH

who entered the shaft, took with him hypodermics.

There was no immediate indication on what the medical needles would be used for, but it was believed Dr. Robertson had diagnosed his own suffering and that of his comrade and that the hypodermics would be used to relieve their pain. Dr. Davis hastily donned miner's togs and dungarees before entering the life-saving tunnel.

On both sides of the rescue shaft, from the subterranean chamber to the surface, grimy mine workers lined up in human chains to aid the passage of Robertson and Scadding to the surface.

At the pit mouth on the surface preparations were being rushed to care for the men.

An ambulance stood by, while other physicians also congregated about the mine entrance.

Great excitement prevailed at the surface. Several of the spectators broke into hysterical sobbing.

The last barrier fell before the picks of the rescue workers approximately 230 hours after the rescue party was trapped in the mine Sunday.

Rescuers Work Savagely

Moose River, N. S., April 22.—Within ten feet of their goal, rescue gangs swung picks savagely this afternoon in their race to liberate two men trapped in the Moose River gold mine since Easter Sunday, spurred by hope they would reach the subterranean prison during the day.

Minister of Mines Michael Dwyer, in active charge of the rescue efforts, said at noon that "not more than ten feet" of rock, the last barrier, lay between the rescue crews and Dr. D. E. Robertson and D. Alfred Scadding.

The two men, with Herman Magill who died in the mine entrapment Monday after a week's imprisonment, were caught behind a sudden rock-slide while on an exploration tour of the abandoned workings.

Advance 6 Or 7 Feet

From nine o'clock this morning until noon, Dwyer said, the rescue gang had hacked their way for six or seven feet through the final barrier. He frowned, however, on calculations based on that progress which would indicate the men might be reached within a few hours.

"The last few feet," he said, "have been fairly easy going, but there are so many agencies that enter this work I can't say just when we will reach them."

"If the last ten feet are the same as those we have just cut through, we might be able to get through in an hour or two but, if it's tough going it may take several hours."

It might be midnight, he added, but the trapped men "certainly" will have been reached by then.

Aid Is Waiting

Meanwhile, on the surface, a Red Cross ambulance was moved near the mouth of the rescue shaft, while doctors and nurses waited to minister to Robertson and Scadding. Both are believed suffering from exposure and malnutrition at least.

New hope flamed in the breasts of the rescue gangs when they received word that the trapped men, in talks over the communication pipe line with officials on the surface, expressed belief shortly before 11 a. m. that they could hear the sound of picks on the other side of the rock barrier.

Their voices were strong, the engineers said after talking to Dr. D. E. Robertson and D. Alfred Scadding via the pipe-line communication system, and they appeared confident their rescue was near.

Report Early Today

Moose River, N. S., April 22.—"Steady progress has been made in cutting through the rock and slate and we expect to have completed the rescue within a few hours."

This encouraging word on the status of the thrilling battle to snatch Dr. D. E. Robertson and Alfred Scadding from death in the gold mine in which they have been imprisoned for almost ten days, came early today from Michael Dwyer, minister of mines for Nova Scotia, who is directing the excavating work.

Dragnetmen, who labored furiously throughout the night in a driving rain and wind storm, reported just as dawn streaked over the Nova Scotia hill country that the shaft being sunk to the entombed pair with within 15 feet of a tunnel leading directly to the spot where the men sit huddled in the darkness. This tunnel is believed to be clear, but if it is not it is believed only loose rock and dirt will be found, which can be removed with comparative ease.

Shortly before 3 a. m., Dr. Robertson shouted into the improvised microphones, through which contact with the imprisoned men was effected.

"We believe we're good for another 48 hours—but please hurry," Dr. H. K. MacDonald, who is in charge of the corps of medical men at the mine, listened to Dr. Robertson and to Scadding who also spoke briefly into the microphone and said:

Believe They'll Be Rescued Alive

"These men are coming out of there alive—I can tell from the strength of their voices that they'll be able to hold out for another 24 hours at the very least—I'm sure we'll be through to them long before that much time has elapsed."

Just before midnight, Scadding reported he and the physician could hear the picks and shovels of the rescue workers again.

Dwyer himself was in the rescue shaft when day dawned, directing the frantic digging and shoveling of the valiant miners in the narrow tunnel. Before entering the shaft he was highly optimistic and said the work had been progressing at a rate of about three feet every four hours.

Most of yesterday, progress was considerably slower, solid rock and shale being encountered most of the way.

A minor accident occurred last night which for a time threatened to delay the rescue work.

Some Delay

A rotted wooden framework in the shaft caved-in, necessitating summoning a crew of carpenters to repair the structure. This fortunately took only a few minutes, however—so efficiently did the carpenters do their work—and the digging was resumed with little loss of time.

Additional miners came on the scene during the night from other mine communities to relieve the men working in the shaft, who were almost in a state of complete exhaustion from their feverish labors.

Proof that the dragnetmen were on the right path came when the tunnel immediately over the one in which the men are trapped was broken into. They found there the two-inch pipe which had been forced 140 feet from the surface into the dungeon prison.

This pipe proved conclusively that the engineers' deductions had been correct.

The tunnel, to which the rescue men penetrated, is 20 feet above the level in which Robertson and Scadding are confined.

Weatherman Says
'Maybe' Sunshine
Will Follow Rain

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 22.—There's not much hope in a "maybe," but Pittsburghers were not too proud to grasp at straws today when the weatherman cautiously predicted that "maybe" we'll have a nice warm week for a change" soon.

Admitting himself at a complete loss to explain the continued and mysterious absence of that cheerful spring fellow, the weatherman unburdened himself of the following sad facts:

"That rain or snow has fallen every day this month but one; that temperatures have been sub-normal every day but three; that today's low, 26, is only 4 degrees higher than the record low for the day, registered in 1875, and 28 degrees under normal temperature for the date, 54 degrees.

DRIVE PROGRESSES
TOWARDS HARAR

By LINDESAY PARROTT

ROME, April 22.—Behind deadly spear-heads of tanks, armored cars, and airplanes, a mass drive straight for Jijiga and Harar is forging ahead along three routes encompassing a 70-mile front in southeastern Ethiopia at the amazing rate of 30 miles a day, today's terse communique made known.

Since the rout of the western wing of Ras Nasibu's army with more than 5,000 slain, the juggernaut of General Rodolfo Graziani has advanced 93 miles, and the remnants of the Ethiopian army of the south are now believed to be hemmed in on two sides.

"On the southern front, our troops are advancing along the whole line, and have now occupied localities about 150 kilometers (93 miles) from their base," said the daily telegram from Marshal Pietro Badoglio, stationed at Dessye.

"Yesterday our columns occupied Dukin, in the valley of Dakada, dispersing the enemy's rear guard forces."

"During the fighting, one of our officers was wounded, and fifty non-commissioned officers and privates were killed or wounded."

"On the northern front further submissions continue."

Dukin is slightly over 100 miles from Harar. It lies on the Dakada (Dasha) river northwest of Sasa Baneh, whose bed, now dry until the "big rains" start soon, leads almost to Harar. Before the occupation of Dukin, the left wing of Graziani's motorized corps also took Daga Modo, on the same route, it is understood.

The communique revealed for the first time the launching of the offensive by the eastern Graziani wing, striking northward from Gorrabei towards Sasa Baneh.

Flow Measured At Flood Crest

Susquehanna Flow At Harris-

Fill Boulder Dam
Quickly

HARRISBURG.—Seven hundred and seventy-five thousand cubic feet of water per hour was passing Harrisburg at the highest stage of the Susquehanna river during the recent March flood, the Department of Forests and Waters and the U. S. Geological Survey announced today. This stage was reached March 19, and the record high flow was maintained for three hours, calculations show.

During this brief period sufficient water was flowing to fill the Commonwealth's huge Pymatuning reservoir in Crawford county, which is 25.7 square miles. Its water capacity is 64,275,000,000 gallons.

Delving further into statistics, department engineers point out that Mead Lake at Boulder Dam, which is the largest artificial lake in the world, could be filled in twenty days at this maximum rate of flow.

Mead Lake is 30,500,000 acre feet in size. One acre foot is equal to 325,851 gallons of water. The Boulder Dam Lake, therefore, has a capacity of approximately 9,938,455,500,000 gallons.

Recent disasters throughout the United States calls to mind the fact that for several years past, the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, has maintained a skeleton organization in Lawrence county which is ready to function if needed in any kind of an emergency.

This county fortunately escaped the major flood disaster which swept Pennsylvania, but they demonstrated the speed with which a disaster of such proportions envelops a community, and the need for an organization which can function in such times, taking care of rescue and relief work.

For this reason, the Disaster Relief Committee, has been revised and new appointments have been made to take care of resignations and vacancies in the local organizations. ## Water Not Flowing Over Spillway At Pymatuning Dam

GREENVILLE, April 22.—For the first time since the flow line was reached on Tuesday, March 24, there was no water passing over the spillway at the Pymatuning reservoir Monday.

The reservoir gates have been opened for the past two weeks, and as a result the reservoir level had dropped several inches until Monday.

The maximum flow through the controlled gates was approximately 250 million gallons a day, but this is being gradually decreased.

A flow line can be maintained again by closing the gates, but by cutting down the flow through the gates it is believed that the water level will gradually move above the flow line again.

Much interest in the reservoir still is being shown by the curious throngs that gather daily. Monday several hundred cars were in evidence, having come from communities within a 100-mile radius of the reservoir.

School Children Plan Fall Shows

Will Grow Definite Flowers
And Vegetables This Summer; School And City
Flowers Chosen

Public schools of New Castle are already busy planning for their flower shows for next September, according to Mrs. Agnes Howley of the Lawrence County Garden club, who is chairman for junior work in the schools.

In previous years, Mrs. Howley states, the children have exhibited whatever they have happened to grow in their gardens, but now they will grow certain definite flowers and vegetables, as well as gourds to be exhibited and judged.

The children may, of course, display other flowers and plants but only as exhibits, not in the classes to be judged. The garden work of the pupils has reached a stage where horticultural values may now be the aim of their efforts. In addition, there will be some classes in arrangement.

School flowers and a city flower were chosen by ballot with the following results: City flower, zinnia; Arthur McGill, dahlia; Oak street, zinnia; Croton avenue, zinnia; W. N. Aiken, zinnia; Thaddeus Stevens, nasturtium; Rose avenue, aster; Lincoln-Garfield, zinnia; Pollock, dahlia; Terrace avenue, zinnia; West Side, dahlia; Mahoningtown, marigold; George Washington, dahlia; Ben Franklin, dahlia; senior high, dahlia.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., April 22.—A notable career as a priest and leader in the Catholic church was at an end today with the death of the most Rev. John Joseph McCort, bishop of the diocese of Altoona. He was 76.

Death came at 6:45 last night to the bishop who had been in coma for several days. His death was attributed to complications following a fall he suffered at the home of friends in Philadelphia where he had visited.

He entered the Mercy hospital here last February 3. Apparently recovered from an operation to remove a cataract. His health failed rapidly and for more than a week his death had been momentarily expected.

Civilization Now Supported By Steel

Total Per Capita Amount Used
Is Now Greatest In History

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, April 22.—Pillars of steel support modern civilization in America today, according to the American Iron and Steel Institute. Approximately 954,000,000 tons have been put in use by the average family, or nearly 17,000 pounds for every person in the United States, the institute reported.

These estimates, according to the institute, the first ever made covering the amount of steel in use in this country, was based on calculations of consumption and production from 1865—the year when the Bessemer process was perfected—through 1935.

The total and per capita amount of steel in use in 1935 was estimated to be the greatest in the country's history; an increase of more than 500 pounds per person over 1934.

The romance of steel has been an interesting one, carrying with it the story of modern civilization. Some of the steel now in use, the institute pointed out, was produced many years ago; most of the 24,000 tons of steel in the Brooklyn bridge, was rolled in 1883, and many buildings built of steel frames before 1900 still stand. Much of the 38,500,000 tons of steel rails in service today was laid more than 50 years ago.

If you wish to make your vacuum cleaner bag last longer, pick up hairpins, tacks and other sharp articles before using the vacuum cleaner. Sharp bits of metal are hard on the cleaner bag, cutting the threads so that it does not hold dust perfectly.
